

I am writing regarding the introduction of Low Power FM (LPFM) and the effect it may have on a radio broadcast that I listen too extensively. The broadcast is K-LOVE.

K-LOVE is a significant service to our community. The programming K-LOVE provides is an excellent alternative to most of the other stations in our area. They provide an upbeat positive program 24 hours each day. This entity also provides the general public a message that they might not otherwise hear. The programming is something that parents never have to be concerned about their children listening too.

If K-LOVE were replaced by LPFM broadcaster with other programming it would have a detrimental impact to myself and others. I look forward to listening to this station each and every day. Also, there are many community activities that would go unadvertised if K-LOVE were to be replaced. K-LOVE advertises for all non-profit organizations free of charge. I do not know of any other broadcaster that provides this service in our area.

K-LOVE is a quality organization and should not be threatened with this type of potential elimination. K-LOVE provides a necessary and needed format of programming that is appropriate for all age groups.
